REPRIMANDED MASTER

ERROR OF JUDGMENT

President Prefers "His Own Way"

SEVERE QUESTIONING

During the enquiry into the circumstances attending the stranding of the emigrant ship "Lok Sun," the President's attention was drawn by Mr. Geo. K. Hall Brutton that the questions which he (the President) was putting to a witness amounted to crossexamination, and not examination-in-chief.

With a show of temper, the President (Commdr. G. F. Hole) $5,000,000 to her, - Reuter's President), Mr. R. Hall (Chair- to-day. said that the witness was called by the Court and, that being so, he could deal with him in any way he liked. I prefer my own way, Mr. Brutton, thank you," he added.

The enquiry was concluded at noon yesterday and the finding was given half an hour later. Capt. Edmondson, master of the stranded ship, was reprimanded for his error of judgment, which put the ship on the rocks.

He said that that entry was made by mistake, whereupon the President of the Court said "You can't make mistakes like that in your logs."

Before he struck the monsoon weather, it was very hazy caused by the heavy rain. He admitted he must have been on the West of Gauze Island when he struck the monsoon. On that course-S. 5 W.—he must have passed E. of Ling Ting.

Too Much Talking

He could not hear any breakers that night, and if he had he would have looked out for them. Witness added that with 750 passengers talking at one time incessantly he could not hear much. Re-examined by Mr. Brutton witness said that with reference to the entry in the log of a previous trip, he saw the course was S. 20 W. whilst proceeding slow. He at once altered the course back S. 12 W. Immediately he lost sight of Green Island Light, his course was S. 12 W.

Ship Hits Rocks Wong King-ming, who was a substitute for the second officer, said he was not on the articles. At 10.47 that night he stood by on the bridge with the master. The anchor was heaved, and a slow speed ahead was put on. They proceeded first to Green Island by South Channel passing it at 11.18

The start was sensational, for Morkel, bowling from the pavilion clean howied Killick and Cannor and had Hammond caught in the slips with only its runs scored. That England recovered to score 302 was entirely due to the dogged play of the two Yorkshiremen. Sutcliffe and Leyland, and in a lesser degree to Hendren. The one moment of the match when England did, hall of the innings, but Christy and Morkel took complete command of the attack and beloed South Africa to lend by 20 runs on the first inn ings. From this point there did not seem much hope of a definite finish but Hammond and O'Connor again failed and at one point on the last morning England were in grave danger when half the side were back in the pavilion with a lead of only 93. CIVIL SERVICE LOSE

Recreio Defeat The Bowling Green

The lowly-placed Kowloon C.C. provided the surprise of the day by defeating the Civil Service C.C. in Division I. of the Lawn Bowls League yesterday. This reverse has depreciated the chances of the Happy Valley team in the championship.

On the other hand, the prospects of the Craigengower C.C., who soundly trounced Taikoo, are much brighter. The Club de Recreio's bid for honours, however, is not to be ignored as, by defeating the Kowloon Bowling Green, they are still on the same level as the C.C.C., being two points behind with a match in hand,

The Kowloon Dock R.C. who dropped from the top position a week ago to the fifth, have slightly "recovered" to No. 3, their victims being the Police R.C.

In the Second Division, the Civil Service C.C. continue in winning vein. The Craigengower C.C. also won, whilst the Bowling Green made up for the defeat of their senior team by overwhelming A. E. S. Alver the Club de Recreio. The Electric R. C. fell another rung in the E. Remedios table by going under to the Yacht Club.

Convincing Victory For The Indians

Competing teams in the Lawn Tennis League are working off arrears, five matches being staged yesterday. There are still a games. goodly number of postponed fixtures to be accounted for, and with the three championships still in the balance, interest is being kept

The Chinese R. C. administered a sound thrashing to their nearest rivals, the Hong Kong C.C., in the "B" division. This leaves the field clearer for the C.R.C., who have won eight matches in succession. They are now expected to retain the championship.

Of the other three fixtures in this section, the most noteworthy feature was the convincing victory of the Indian R.C. over the Kowloon C.C. This is, incidentally, the first point for the Sookumpoo team in eight matches.

In the "C" division, the Craigengower C.C. trounced the Royal Engineers and Royal Corps of Signals to the tune of seven sets to

Windfall For The Boy Scouts

TRHE past week has been memorable in the history of Boy Scouts 1 the world over by reason of the high honour conferred by His Majesty the King on the Chief Scout, Sir Robert Baden-Powell on the occasion of the great Jamboree. The week shall always be memorable in the annals of the local Boy Scout movement also by reason of the public announcement of the acquisition on behalf of the Scouts of Barker's Island at Saiwan.

This acquisition has been made possible by reason not alone of the sagacity of the Commissioner and Council of the Boy Scouts I here but through the liberality of the Government grant. Here, I "for ever and a day," the Boy Scouts can engage in the fullest possible programme of their well-known activities, moulding and building up Character, Discipline, and Manhood and Physique in panies fined on the ten-dollar-line? boys of all ages, all who are willing to pledge themselves to do that one good turn a day that helps to leaven humanity around them and make the world better for the Boy Scout movement.

. Barker's Bungalow or "Island" at Saiwan has fallen into the lap of the Boy Scouts as a windfall. It is more than that. It may be regarded by succeeding generations of Boy Scouts here as a glorious heritage in the greatest of all great causes amongst the youngthe young who are being trained up in the right way to be the best type of citizens of the future. It is, or rather will be, a heritage to be zealously guarded and preserved. It is a heritage that will make history in the movement in this Colony. Within their own sacred preserves, away from the disturbing influence of intruders and vandals, all the requirements of Camp life can be carried on throughout the whole year—at the cost of only a ten cents tram fare there and back.

The grounds are commodious enough to meet every want of the Boy Scout for decades to come. Every conceivable hobby can be pursued in the open air without let or hindrance-but rather with every possible guidance and encouragement. The wide expanse of the sea, with all its glories and all its wonders, is there for the Sea Scouts to carry out their nautical work and their nautical play. With the addition of a hulk there is no end to the possibilities ahead of the Sea Scouts. With the growing public interest in the to some generous philanthropist to ensure the procuring of a hulk Portsmouth and Plymouth, when Hut, Cheung-sha-wan, a Chinese Kong and other parts of His Boy Scout movement, perhaps it may only require a gentle hint It may be said without exaggeration that once Barker's Bun- to be thrown open to in- days' hard labour, by the Kowloon part. for the new centre of work at Saiwan.

galow and its immense grounds are in ship-shape order for the reception of the Boy Scouts the movement in the Colony will receive a tremendous impetus that cannot but have its repercussions on the branches elsewhere in the Orient, and even further afield. Greater things, too, will be expected of the Boy Scout movement here, but with the fine spirit of the Chief Scout and founder ever before them it can confidently be anticipated that all-Commissioners, Scout Masters, Scouts, Rovers, and Cubs-will in deed and in word demonstrate that they are a power for good to be reckoned with in the communal life of the Colony as a whole.

HONG KONG FAIRY STORIES

Why not let us have Scout Tattoo, similar to the Grand Tattoo we had had last October, but on a much smaller scale? The proceeds of the Tattoo could be devoted to charities, and beds may be founded in hospitals to be named after the Chief Scout.

Besides, the Scout movement is comparatively unknown to most of the Chinese residents, who still seem to think that the Scout movement is a Military movement, as the name "Tung, Tsze Kwan" (Child Soldier) implies.

Of course my suggestion may be unacceptable to the authorities concerned, but I am giving it as what I think it is

SAFETY FIRST

THE "DANGER CUPBOARD"

From time to time we read of fearsome happenings that have taken place on account of some bottle not having been labelled "puison" or some inflammable liquid having been used by someone ignorant if its qualifies. In such events, it is often difficult actually to alloate the blame. It is just a matter of one of those unfortunate occurcen es that should have been forespen by someone, though no one quite knows by whom.

Why not institute a "Danger Cupboard." for which one member of the household shall be made definitely responsible, and which shall be kept under lock and key? In the cupboard chould be locked away such things as the petrol, benzol and berydine which may be used for the tamily dry cleaning. Such materials t are great savers of cleaning costs. and it would be foolish to forbid then use within the home. But they also have their risks, so that they must not be left lying about art every me's command. The cuscodian of the key must read a brief le ture on the necessary precautions every time they are used and see test that each bottle is returned to it≅ place,

That all poisonous medicines must be labelled and kept in the Danger is simple in its conception, yet none the Cupboard goes without saying, less pretty. There are also various chemicals, used in household chores, which are polymous for cats and dogs. They, 1 of thould find a place in the cupboard, together with rat-poisons, By papers, beetle-powders and so torth And, of course, weedkiller, writer in a London contemporary) the arsenical cause of so many tragedies must similarly be under their holidays on the water. Having embarked and been conducted to your cabin you will spend a little time "digging yourself in" and getting acquainted with your stewardess. When packing, do not forget to include a really warm wrap and a pair of rubber shoes for deck wear.

Tour next concern should be to approach the chief steward as soon as he has finished dealing with the incoming passengers and arrange where you would like to sit in the saloon for meals. Naturally, if there are any passengers on board who travel frequently in that particular ship they have the prior right to seats at the captain's table. But, contrary to liner etiquette, there is no reason why you should not ask to sit there if you wish. If there i is room your request will be granted. On these coasting voyages it is not necessary to dress for dinner.

Last, but not least, comes the question of tipping. There are two people whom you will not overlook --your stewardess and your table too, should receive a small tip. The ed collar caught at the shoulder with a bunch of distinctive flowers, the other amount of the tips will naturally be regulated by the number of days and nights you are on board.

You will, however, appreciate that it is your stewardess who brings your early morning cup of tea and makes your bed and does much for your personal comfort. And if you should prove a bad sallor, she it is who is your friend services rendered!

To Maintain Your Strength During The Hot Weather You Must Have Vitamins

Vitamins are minute foodstuffs necessary to maintain life and are an essential part of your daily diet.

The constant digestive disturbances inseparable from life near the Tropics tend to exhaust the body of its store of vitamins. Slight disorders of the bowels lead to lasting lassitude and weakness. Dysentery, dy spepsia, diarrhoca, all leave one exhausted and chronically "tired."

Purgatives are only temporary remedies; a two months' course of Ostelin gives lasting results, for it is concentrated Vitamin D, the one vitamin essential to normal digestion.

Ostelin is the Vitamin D concentrate in Glaxo which makes that milk powder the best available for your baby.

FRENCH STAR

BEAUTIFUL PRODUCTION

Lily Damita, the beautiful French star, who has long captured the hearts of picture-goers, is the heroine of "The Dancer of Barcelona," which will be shown at the Queen's Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday.

No more entertaining picture has been brought to the local screen than this tale of the love of a famous dancer for the young son of a wealthy aristocrat, and the ascendency of the fascination of her art over that love.

"The Dancer of Barcelona" is a thing of beauty. Gorgeous ballets, sumptous theatre scenes, the wonders of a sun-bathed garden, every respect.

Never has Lily Damita, the most alluring of screen heroines, revealed better acting. "The Dancer of celebrated navense and physician vouch and unsophisticated. Fine photography adds materially to this enjoyment. The scene in the buil ring, alone, is such as is rarely seen in a moving picture. Couple with this the depicted glories of the countryside where the lovers pass a blissful three months, as well as the glimpses of the ballet, and the eye is gratified beyond measure.

RIN-TIN-TIN

"Tracked by the Police"

The many cinemagoers who remember Rin-Tin-Tin in "The Night Cry," "While London Sleeps," "Hills of Kentu. ky" and others of his startlingly brilliant pictures. will come with high expectations to see him at the World Theatre on Thursday next in "Tracked by the Police," and their expectations will be fully realized.

"Tracked by the Police" is a story of the Arizona desert country and of the building of the Laguna Dam which has converted miles of arid territory into arable land. The conflict comes from the rivalry of two construction companies who vie for the job.

Attempts are made on the life of Bradley, and of Rin-Tin-Tin, whose uncanny intelligence foils all schemes of the enemy. "Tracked by the Police" is a picture for people of whatever age. It is rousing melodrama and besides the entertainment value of the story, it truthfully portrays a phase of the making of the West.

Universal Pictures Corporation staged a Summer Girl Contest at Atlantic City in connection with the filming of "The Cohens and Kellys in Atlantic City," the farcecomedy picture now being shown at the Queen's Theatre. The winner, Elsie Allen, an Atlantic City school girl received a six months' contract to appear in Universal Pictures and accompanied the film company back to California. She has shown up so well on the screen that Universal has extended her contract and is now preparing her for stardom.

One of the most unique theatrical entertainments ever presented in Hong Kong will he given shortly at the Queen's Theatre. M. Torcat and his "troupe" of 60 game roosters are to make an early appearance. Further announcements will shortly be made.

Odette's husband (character played by Warwick Ward. the British actor), suspecting his wife of infidelity, drives her from home, separating her from her little daughter. When she returns, many years later, the daughter, now a woman, is about to be married. As the price of going away without revealing her identity, Odette demands an interview with the girl she so fondly loved. As a stranger -a friend of the girl's dead mother -she sees and talks with her, enduring agony to keep her word and not wreck her daughter's life. An interesting letter from the son Christopher Columbus has lately ome to light in Spain. If he had been viriting to-day, his letters 'Yours, D. C.,' but he belonged to an age of less bustle and more ceremony, and so the letter he wrote to the Archbishop of Toledo on January 12, 1512, concludes, 'Illustrious Sir, Servitor of Your Very Reverend Lordship, whose very magnificent hands are kissed by El 5.30 o'clock Almirante,'

This letter has been bought by America, Diego Columbus was with his father on the first journey to America, and two years after his father's death was made Governor of the Indies. A few minutes after the carriage had swert through the central arch of the Palace gates, the King walked through a window on to the balconv and waved his hand slowly to the crowd below of 50,000 odd who were still cheering. It was really a family acknowledgment, for the Queen stood by His Majesty's side, with her arm round the Princess Elizabeth, and close at hand were the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York and other members of the Royal Family. It is a sad thing to see a beautiful countryside destroyed by industrialism. From Woolwich Arsenal to beyond Chatham, the rapidgrowing cement industry has destroyed what used to be one of the fairest parts of the garden of England. All works are more or less unattractive, but a cement plant is uglier than most others, and what is even more distressing is the thin layer of fine dust which lies on everything round about, makes the houses hideous, destroys the flowers and the gardens, and must eventually penetrate into the lungs of the new Government seems to be ready with a quite simple but attractive | Street or 'Phone C. 4641.

Indianapolis Grand Prix

The brick speedway at Indianapolis has been the scene of many stirring "500" races. In the past the tendency has been to decrease the cubic capacity of cars, and on May 30 the entries were limited to the 11/2 litre class. Next year's race, however, will be known as the Indianapolis Grand Prix and will be open to cars up to six litres | (6,000 c.c.) capacity.

Grand Prix of Rome

The Grand Prix of Rome was run on May 26 under ideal conditions on the Circuito delle tre Fontaine, which is about 5 miles from Rome. No British cars competed. The winner Acnelle Varzi, took the lead from the start and maintained his position to the end, driving a 1,750 c.c. Alfa-Romeo. The light car class was won by Arcangeli in a Romeo) second and Biordetti (Salmson) third. Both Varzi and Arcangeli have ridden motor cycles in the I.O.M. Tourist Trophy races.

Motor Ship Progress

It is generally thought that Britain, relatively, is not making such headway in the adoption of motor ships as is the case in other countries. This statement may be true so far as cargo vessels are concerned, but it does not apply to passenger liners or tankers. Of these vessels there are as many under construction in Britain as in the rest of the world combined. According to the "Motor Ship," there are now 27 motor passenger liners of over 10,000 tons gross being built, and of these, 13, totalling nearly 200,000 tons gross, are on the stocks in British yards During the past two months a conmotor tankers has been placed, totalling over 200,000 tons deadweight capacity, and of these rather more than half or well over 100,000 tons d.w.c. are building in British yards. Incidentally, they include an order just placed for one of the biggest tankers ever built, a 16,000-ton ship for Scandinavian

Peril of Petrol Vapour

We observe that a petrol tank has exploded during repairing operations. This in the early days of motoring was a not infrequent occurrence, because repairers did not always realise the danger of ever so little petrol remaining in the tank. Of latter years, however, it is generally known that even after the clapse of days petrol vapour is likely to remain behind, and to apply a blowlamp to an almost enclosed vessel, such as a patrol tank, may be attended with dongerous end even fatal resultsas happened in the recent instance. It can never be too often or too strongly emphasised that control tank repairs require the utmost care in their execution, and that a naked flame must never be brought into contact with the vessel: In the event of ignition, the best thing that can happon is that the tank will be irreparably burst, and there is no limit to the possibilities of a really dangerous explosion. The average amateur mechanic might well regard tank repairs as a little beyond his resources.

This Engine tells a Powerful Story

The power plant in the New Chevrolet represents years of development by one of the world's greatest engineering staffs. It was proved by thousands of miles of testing on the famous General Motors Proving Grounds. It introduces a type of performance in a low priced car - power, speed, smoothness, and quietness and flashing acceleration — that amazes even experienced motorists.

But notwithstanding this sensational performance, Chevrolet's 16 - year reputation for fuel economy is more pronounced in the New Chevrolet than ever before, and because of its perfected design and quality construction its maintenance cost is unbelievably

MAGIC WADDING A Real Labour-Saver For Cars

Cleaning the bright parts of the car is a task which few owners really relish, though the advent of chromium plating is doing much to save labour in this respect. It is particularly gratifying to discover a preparation which renders easier the polishing of ordinary nickel and brass. Such, very definitely, is Duraglit, a product known as Magic Wadding. It consists of wadding saturated with a special liquid, a small portion being torn off for the job in hand. This is rubbed lightly over the parts to be polished, and then finally a clean, dry cloth is used. The material possesses the advantage of not spilling over other parts of the car where it is not wanted, as often happens with a liquid. Then the same piece of wadding can be used several times.

Further, waste is prevented, since no more of it need be used than is required at the moment, and no Not all motorists realise the im- deposit is left in the nooks and portance of using only good-condi- crannies found on every car. tioned tubes in their covers.
